LECTURER with Potential Security of Employment

Job Application FAQs

When are the letters of recommendation due?
The letters of recommendation are due on November 14, 2016, the same day that the full application is due. Please enter the required information into the system and prompt your letter writers early in the process to allow sufficient time for the letters to be completed and submitted by the due date.

Does UC Davis have a work life balance program? And, what options are available during the recruitment process?
Yes, please see the following website for a full description of work life resources: http://academicaffairs.ucdavis.edu/programs/work-life/index.html

In 2012, UC Davis implemented a family-friendly recruitment practice to make it easier for recruited candidates who are parents of very young children to participate in on-campus interviews for faculty positions. This practice allows the reimbursement of travel and hotel expenses for a second person to accompany the prospective faculty mother (or single parent of either gender) of a breast- or bottle-feeding child under the age of two. Reimbursable hotel expenses may also include the costs associated with providing a crib in the hotel room (up to $200).

May I mail in my application material for this position?
All applicants must apply through the automated system at the following link: https://recruit.ucdavis.edu/apply/JPF01290

Who may I contact with my questions?
Administrative contact: Carla Munoz camunoz@ucdavis.edu
Search Committee Chair: Gail Patricelli gpatricelli@ucdavis.edu